

Dear Leader,

Tampa Bay's international business profile continues to grow.

That's the conclusion I easily reached as I reviewed the results of the latest Foreign Direct Investment Study conducted by the Tampa Bay Partnership. It shows the Tampa Bay region is attracting and nurturing hundreds of companies from around the world. They employ thousands of residents and make a huge contribution to the economic vitality of our communities. Additionally, scores of Tampa Bay businesses provide goods and services globally. We are a true player in the international marketplace.

Our research identified 480 foreign-owned companies with 1,821 locations in our region.

The enviable roster of brands and products from these world-class companies are common names and industry leaders. Bankers Financial, Nielsen, Sweetbay Supermarket, Firmenich, Gerdau Long Steel North America, BIC and CAE USA Inc., are just a few of the different businesses thriving in our market. Many have their U.S. headquarters here. Some have substantial manufacturing facilities, while others offer significant IT and professional services.

This research reveals they are drawn to the low cost of doing business here, the quality of our work force, the beautiful weather, and supporting infrastructure, such as our ports and airports.

This study is an important complement to the Partnership's Regional Business Plan for Tampa Bay, which provides laser-like focus on those industries best-suited to promote economic growth and diversification in the region. With deeper insight into how and why global businesses operate in our community, we can cultivate relationships and resources to encourage even more organizations to come here and grow here, further boosting our economy and creating jobs.

I'd like to sincerely thank the companies that participated in this research. Their commitment to the Tampa Bay region brings a vibrancy to the area that is much appreciated. Many of these companies could have selected almost any location in the U.S., and they chose to be part of the Tampa Bay community.

I believe this study will assist all of us who are dedicated to growing the Tampa Bay economy and raising our international profile. Through a committed and consistent global outreach, we can continue to soar.

Sincerely,

The FDI Study surveyed foreign-owned companies on a variety of information points, from employment levels to location selection factors. The 50 respondents revealed the following trends:

Nearly half, or 46 percent, of foreign-owned companies in the Tampa Bay region export a portion of their goods or services outside of the U.S. Only 28 percent of companies are selling solely within the state of Florida or Tampa Bay region.
- When asked about parts and materials procurement, 57 percent of the 46 respondents indicated that they source parts and materials solely within the state of Florida or Tampa Bay region. Only 13 percent of the survey respondents indicated they solely source via imports.
- Based on location factors from 50 respondents, the most common reason given for locating in Tampa Bay was merger/acquisition cited by 46 percent of respondents. This was followed by central location (30 percent), and market/customer base (12 percent).
- Of the 50 respondents, several cited the following as advantages of being located in the Tampa Bay region: low costs of business, quality workforce, climate, and infrastructure such as our regional ports and airports.
- Of the 50 respondents, several cited the following as disadvantages of being located in the Tampa Bay region: lower local incomes (presumable for consumption purposes), lack of transportation options both locally (mass transit) and globally (international flights).

Methodology

The Tampa Bay Partnership’s Foreign Direct Investment Study identified foreign business investment in the Tampa Bay region as of the second quarter of 2011. This is an update of the 2009 Foreign Direct Investment Study. The study was administered by phone to companies in Citrus, Hernando, Hillsborough, Manatee, Pasco, Pinellas, Polk and Sarasota counties. The original list was compiled from information provided by:

- Enterprise Florida, Inc.
- Hoover’s (Dun & Bradstreet) Research
- Economic Development Partners
- Internet and Journal Research
- Tampa Bay Partnership 2009 FDI Study
- ReferenceUSA Research
- Local Chamber of Commerce
- Bi-national Chamber & Foreign Business Councils

The Tampa Bay Partnership Foreign Direct Investment Study was designed to validate each company’s presence within the Tampa Bay region, as well as its foreign ownership. In addition, the study contained qualitative and quantitative elements intended to provide a better picture of who Tampa Bay’s foreign companies are, what they do and why they do it in Tampa Bay. The result is a listing of 480 companies from around the region representing 41 different nations and a wide swath of industries. The comparative statistics from the 2009 study are 394 companies and 34 countries.

The Tampa Bay Partnership Foreign Direct Investment Study report is divided into five sections: the Company Analysis; Country Analysis; Industry Analysis; Survey Results; and Company Directory. Data within the Company Analysis section analyzes the findings for all of the companies contacted and provides a general breakdown of demographic and psychographic data for the eight county area. The Country and Industry analysis sections provide a more in-depth look at the data for the countries and sectors that have the largest foreign investments. Industries are defined by utilizing the NAICS 2007, North American Industry Classification System. The Survey Results are the compilation of data collected from surveying the 480 companies, of which 50 provided responses. The Company Directory lists all of the confirmed foreign owned companies and includes their county location, nation of origin, industry, and employment. The employment numbers for individual companies are provided in ranges to ensure confidentiality.

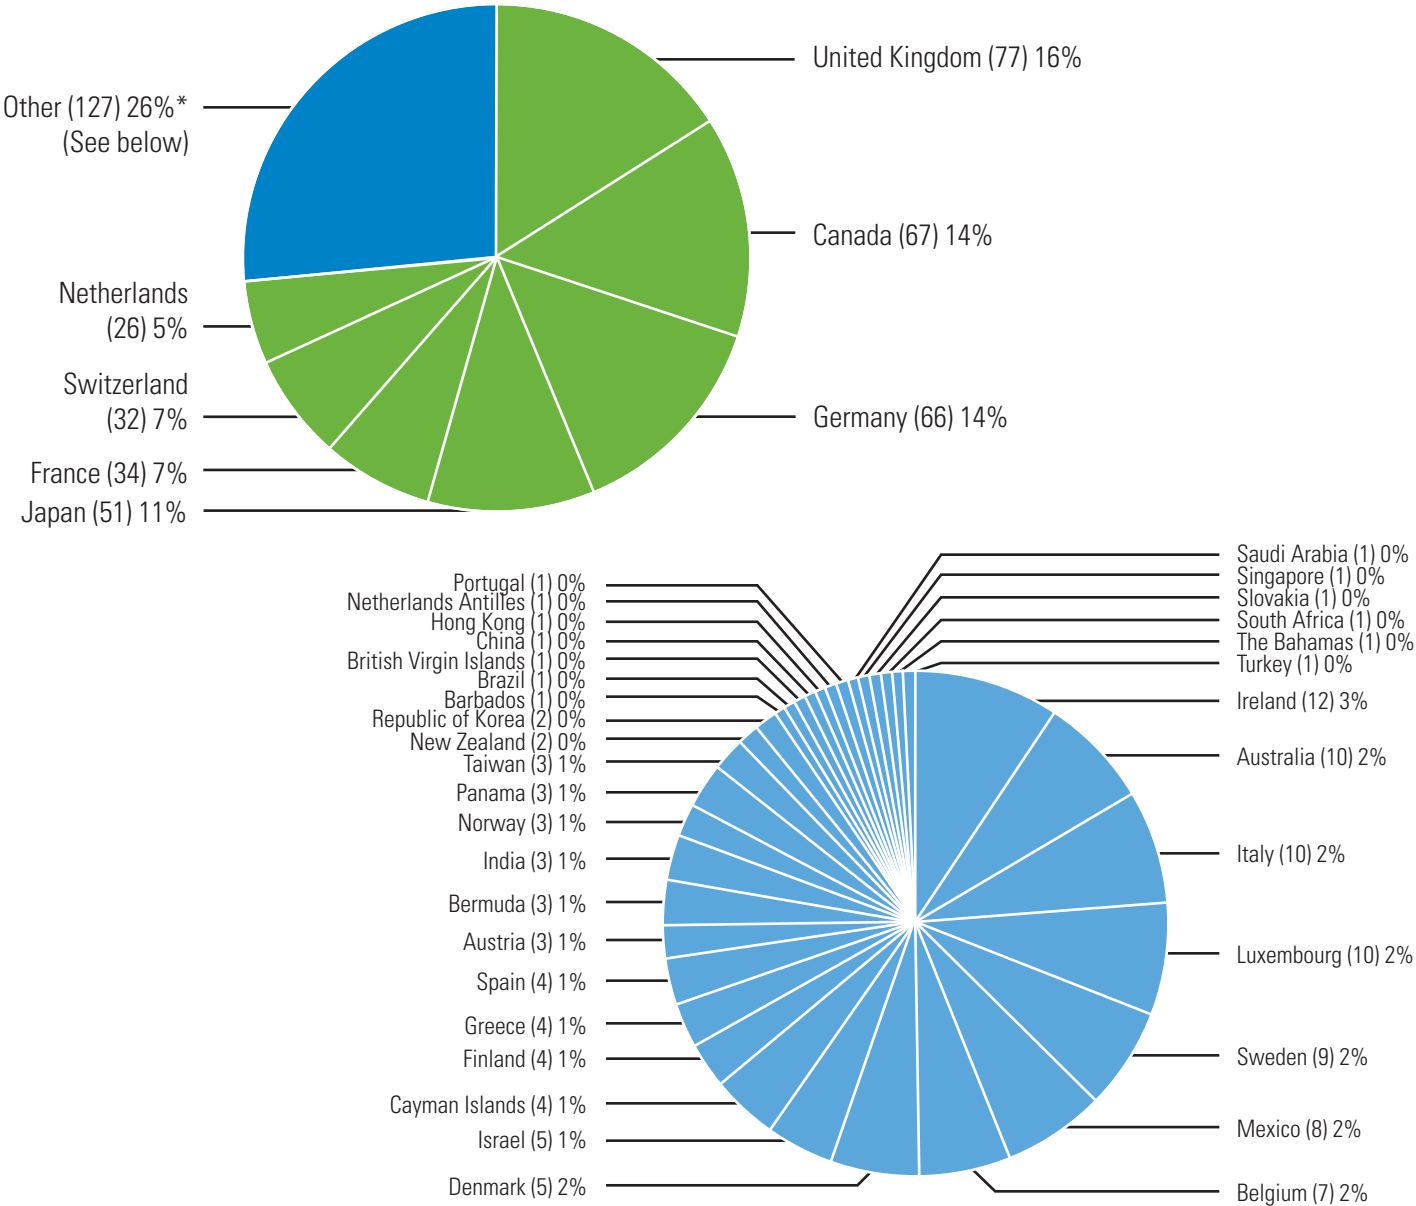

Additional information on the Foreign Direct Investment Study can be obtained through the Tampa Bay Partnership. The Tampa Bay Partnership is the regional organization that works with its partners to market the region nationally and internationally, to conduct regional research and to coordinate efforts to influence business and government issues that impact economic growth and development.
